

Free Portrait Day sees 100 Families at the AccessPoint on Danforth Hub

(Toronto, ON)
November 29, 2012:
On Saturday, November 24th, The AccessPoint on Danforth community Hub (APOD) hosted a free portrait day organized by Action for Neighbourhood Change Taylor Massey (ANC) and Access Alliance Multicultural Health and Community Services. 100 families (a total of over 300 community members) in Crescent Town came and had professional hair and makeup done before getting their portrait taken by a professional photographer.

This is the third year APOD has hosted a free portrait day, giving community members the opportunity to go home with a professional family photo.

“We had an amazing and successful event”, says Tammy Clarke, ANC Convenor. “Thank you to all the photographers, assistants, hair and make-up artists, volunteers, CAPIC, Access Alliance staff, ANC staff and volunteers for creating such a memorable event.”

Professional photography generously donated by CAPIC, a collective voice and advocate for professional photographers, illustrators and digital artists in Canada. CAPIC was founded in 1978 as a national, not-for-profit association dedicated to safeguarding and promoting the rights and interests of photographers, illustrators and recently, digital artists, working in the communications industry. <http://www.capic.org> .

Access Alliance Multicultural Health and Community Services and Action for Neighbourhood Change Taylor Massey are partners in the AccessPoint on Danforth community hub space along with Early York East Toronto Family Resources and Toronto Employment & Social Services and Nia Centre for the Arts. ANC is part of the United Way Toronto’s Building Strong Neighbourhoods Strategy.
